

Following clarification/rebuttal was issued to Dawn on November 22, 2019 for publication:

Apropos the 'Letter to the Editor' entitled 'Prize bonds' published in your esteemed newspaper on November 21, 2019. As the content of the letter are not based on facts, it is clarified, in the interest of general public, that under the Premium Prize Bonds (Registered) Rules 2017, bonds can be purchased by two or more adults jointly in their names. Joint investment in the Premium Prize Bonds scheme, however, requires submission of details of a bank account maintained jointly by investors in any conventional bank.

Following is the 'Letter to the Editor' entitled 'Prize bonds' published in Dawn on November 21, 2019:

Prize bonds

Dawn/Letter

Who is this State Bank of Pakistan wise guy forbidding the husband and wife joint bank account holders from purchasing the premium prize bonds?

Mrs Khurshid Naim

Islamabad