Virtual Currencies/Coins/Tokens provide high degree of anonymity and potentially can be used for facilitating illegal activities. Also due to the ambiguous nature of Virtual Currencies, no legal protection or recourse is available to any individual in the event of a loss incurred due to any or all of the following risks:

- b) Failure/closure of Virtual Currency exchanges/businesses due to any reason including action by law enforcement agencies; and
- c) Hacking/security compromises of crypto currency exchanges and wallet businesses as a number of instances have been recorded around the world where huge amount of funds have been lost due to the exchange/wallet operations being hacked/compromised.

Further, Fraudsters are also offering pyramid style investment schemes and coins and promising high returns (similar to Ponzi schemes) to the general public in Pakistan. This can cause significant loss to the General Public.

In this regard, no entity is currently licensed or authorized by SBP to offer money remittance services and products in Pakistan using Virtual Currencies/ Coins/Tokens.
